Family Tree of the LOWDHAM family of LOUDHAM, Co.Suffolk, FRENZE Co.Norfolk and KELVEDON Co.Essex

Blennerhassett Family Tree (BH27_deLowdham_family_DL.xlsx) revised January 2012, copyright © Bill Jehan 1968-2012

Thanks to all who have contributed to these pages - please send additions & corrections to email: bjehan@BlennerhassettFamilyTree.com

DL 01

The family of de Lowdham were Lords of the Manor of LOUDHAM Co.Suffolk, FRENZE Co.Norfolk and KELVEDON Co.Essex. for many years before the three manors passed to the Blennerhassett family by marriage c1423 (p.N 1)

b.est.1275

m. <???>

The remote and beautiful manor of Frenze (locally pronounced 'Fi-renze') is on the banks of the River Frenze, 1 mile east of Diss, Norfolk.

In ancient times the spelling "Ludham", "Loudham" and "Lowdham" were used, seemingly at random, for both family name and Suffolk placename. In modern times the place name is always Loudham, the family name usually Lowdham...

oudham next Wickham", as close to Wickham Market. The ecclesiastical parish is now Pettistree with Loudham.

The manor of Loudham was so	ometimes known as "Lo
>>>> John de Lowdham >>>>>>>>	> William >>>>>>>>
(Ludham, Loudham)	de Lowdham
b.est.1225	(Ludham, Loudham)
/	b.est.1250
of manor of Loudham	of Loudham
(Loudham Hall),	/
Pettistree, Suffolk	in 1297 the manor of
/	Frenze in Norfolk was
was also Lord and	settled on John and patron of the manor	his wife Alice
of Frenze (Frenze Hall),	[BLOMEFIELD
near Diss, Norfolk	v.1 p.140]
/	/
earliest recorded Lord	m. Alice ??
of the Manor of Frenze &
Patron of Frenze Church
holding Frenze in 1280
[BLOMEFIELD vol.1, p.140]
[COPINGER vol.3, p.108]
/
perhaps(?) d.1297
when his son William

de Lowdham gained Frenze,

but not necessarily so...

m. <???>

```
>:>|>> Sir John >>>>>>|>> Sir John >>>>>>>|>> Sir John >>>>>>> |>> Iohn de Lowdham b.est.1352 d.1373
                                                            de Lowdham, Knt
                             de Lowdham, Knt
                              b.c1308
                                                            b.est.1331
                              aged 21 years in 1329
                             [BLOMEFIELD v.1 p.140] m. <???>
                              with his wife he held Loudham.
                              Suffolk & Frenze, Norfolk, from 1329
                              in 1336 he purchased several large parcels of land
                              from Ralph de Shimpling and Katherine his wife,
                              including the manor of Boylands (Boylands Hall)
                             in Scole; in 1343 by fine he settled Boylands on himself and his wife (Boylands extends into Osmundeston, Frenze and Stirston: is part in Co.Norfolk and part Co.Suffolk)
                             in 1351 he and his wife held Frenze & Boylands
                             d.1355
                              m. Joanna "Joan" (or Jane) de Kelvedon, d.1371
                             only dau. & heir of Sir William de Kelvedon, Knt.
                             of the manor of Kelvedon (Kelvedon Hall), Great Braxted, Chelmsford, Essex [MORANT vol.2 p.153];
                             i.p.m. 1346 (20 Edward III)
                              I could not find this i.p.m. in the [NA i.p.m. index],
```

must revisit it...

(below) 1329

aged 7 years when his father died c1384/5; during his minority Frenze was held, as guardian, Sir Robert Corbet, Jr, Knt; Boylands was in 1401 held in dower by the widow of Robert Corbet Sr.

He granted to John Woodhouse that part of Boylands not bequeathed to his daughter Joan

> m. Alice <???> d.post 1428

```
>> Sir Thomas >>>>> >|>> John de Lowdham >>: >|>> Joanna "Joan" >>> >|>> issue (p.N 1)
 de Lowdham, Knt
                        b.c1377/8
 b.est.1354
                        d.c1423/4
 heir to his elder brother John.
                        [MORANT v.2 p.153]
holding Loudham, Frenze (with part
                        & [NI] give this date
of Boylands) and
                        [BLOMEFIELD vol.1
Kelvedon from 1373
                        p.141] has him
     /
d.1384/5
                        d.28.4.1428 in error
(not d.c1416/17)
 m. Maude <???>
held Loudham, Frenze, Boylands & Kelvedon
```

from c1398/9 (when aged 21 yrs, his father having predeceased him), holding Kelvedon of the Prior and Convent of St.Botolph's, Colchester;

first by Sir Robert Corbet, Sr, Knt then by his son

m.1st est. c1422 (aged est. c13 years)

5. Toddenham, Suffolk

6. Halvergate, Suffolk

thus supporting this 1501 date of death

Thomas de Heveningham (Hevenyngham) d.c1422/3 (dsp) [MORIARTY/1 p.274] has Heveringham

(or Jane) de Lowdham CONTINUED ON page N 1 of:

[NI] [MORIARTY/1 p.275] [BLOMEFIELD vol.1 p.141]

Joan died aged c91/92 yrs; [ANSTIS] gives no age at death;

[BLOMEFIELD vol.1 p.141] has her aged 97 yrs in error

1. Manor of Loudham (Loudham Hall), Pettistree, Suffolk

(her i.p.m. 12.10.1501, 17 Henry VII) [MORANT v.2 p.153]

b.c1409/10 (not b.c1404), as aged 14 years at her father's i.p.m. 1423/4 (2 Henry VI)

[MORIARTY/1 p.275] says her i.p.m. in Essex is dated 12.10.1501 (17 Hen.VII), thus only daughter & heir; on her father's death she inherited property as follows:

2. Manor of Frenze (Frenze Hall) Frenze, Diss, Norfolk [BLOMEFIELD vol.1 pp.140-1] 3. one of two parts of the manor of Boylands (Boylands Hall), Scole - half in Norfolk, half Suffolk was held "of Robert Southwell in right of his wife as of the manor of Fillwell Hall"

4. Manor of Kelvedon (Keldon, Keldey or Kelden Hall, or Easterford Hall), Great Braxted, Essex

d.20.6.1501 - this date of death is from a transcription of her brass in Frenze church as described by [ANSTIS G.6 f.39]; the brass had gone by [BLOMEFIELD]'s time, but he quotes [ANSTIS]

however, another reference to her i.p.m dates it 15 Henry VII, vol.2 p.290 (467-9), i.e. 1499-1500, so this needs to be checked

Blennerhassett of Co.Norfolk, Co.Suffolk & Co.Fermanagh

m.2nd c1423 (she aged c14 years)

Ralph (Ralf, Rafe) de Blenerhayset; b.c1400 Cumberland and still "of Carlisle" 1437 5th son of Ralph de Blenerhayset of Carlisle & Great Orton (he being the 5th son is indicated by his family in East Anglia charging their arms with an annulet for difference, the annulet being a mark of cadency indicating descent from a fifth son) Thus the manors listed above passed to the Blennerhassett family

NOTE: Their eldest child John Blennerhassett was b.c1423/4 (p.N 1)

Ralph d.17.11.1475 at "an advanced age"; bur. in the church of St.Andrew the Apostle, Frenze, Norfolk; the exact day of his death, recorded in inscription on his monumental brass at Frenze, is difficult to read and recorded variously as xvii (17th) [HAMLINE], xiiii (14th) [BLOMEFIELD] & [L'ESTRANGE], ximo (10th) [KERRICH];

in addition [BIFR p.133] & [MORIARTY/1 p.275] have d.8.11.1475 in error; [OKR p.4] & [BROWNE] have d.1400, in error;

his will is dated 20.9.1465, pr.8.12.1483 [NRO, NCC Caston, f.183A]

CONTINUED ON page N 1 of:

Blennerhassett of Co.Norfolk, Co.Suffolk & Co.Fermanagh

"of Edmund, son of Sir Thomas Ufford, Lord of Eve" for her lifetime [BLOMEFIELD vol.1 p.140] [MORIARTY/1 p.275] becomes confused, showing this Joan married to her own great-grandson

John de Lowdham, and others have followed him...

following her husband's death in 1355 she held Frenze

held Frenze jointly with Sir John de Lowdham, Knt

held Loudham, Frenze, Boylands & Kelvedon from 1355 i.p.m. 1423/4 (2 Hen.VI) [MORIARTY/1 p.275]

DL 01